RELIVE THE EVENT OF OUR REDEMPTION AND DEEPEN OUR LOVE FOR CHRIST

The Church celebrates this Sixth Sunday in Lent as Palm Sunday of the Passion of the Lord. It is on this Sunday that we enter Holy Week. This is the time of the year when we stop to remember and relive the events which brought about our redemption and salvation. The Holy Week liturgies present us with the actual events of the dying and rising of Jesus. These liturgies enable us to experience in our lives here and now what Jesus went through then. In other words, what we commemorate and relive during this week is not just Jesus' dying and rising, but our own lifetime of dying and rising in Him, which result in our healing, reconciliation, and redemption. Just as Jesus did, we, too, must lay down our lives freely by actively participating in the Holy Week liturgies. In doing so, we are allowing Jesus to forgive us our sins, heal the wounds in us caused by our sins and the sins of others, and transform us more completely into the image and likeness of God. In this way, we will be able to live more fully the Divine life we received at Baptism. Attentive participation in the Holy Week liturgies will also deepen our relationship with God, increase our Faith, and strengthen our lives as disciples of Jesus. But let us remember that Holy Week can become "holy" for us only if we actively and consciously take part in the liturgies of this week. During this Holy week of the Passion — passionate suffering, passionate grace, passionate love, and passionate forgiving — each of us is called to remember the Christ of Calvary and then to embrace and lighten the burden of the Christ Whose passion continues to be experienced in the hungry, the poor, the sick, the homeless, the aged, the lonely, and the outcast.

On Palm Sunday of the Pasion of the Lord, we remember the two contrasting moments: one of glory, with other of suffering — the welcome of Jesus into Jerusalem, with the drama of His trial which ended in His condemnation, crucifixion, and death. And the readings for this Sunday are sequenced accordingly. In the first reading, Jesus Christ is presented as the "suffering Servant" of Isaiah's prophecy. In the second reading, taken from Paul's Letter to the Philippians, Jesus' saving mission is highlighted. In the first part of today's Gospel reading, we have the details of Jesus' triumphant reception to the city of Jerusalem. We are told that Jesus' followers welcomed him (riding on a donkey), as king and savior. We are also told how Jesus wept over Jerusalem, cleansed the Temple of Jerusalem, and cursed a barren fig tree. But in the second part of the Passion reading from the Gospel we reflect on Jesus' unjust trial, humiliating, cruel torture, suffering, and crucifixion.

Jesus suffers innocently. There are sufferings of different kinds we experience daily. When we undergo sufferings, we ask the question, 'why?' Why do I have to undergo suffering? What wrong have I done? There is also a question of, why a loving God allows us to suffer in the first place. On the question of why Christ was silent on the persecution of Japanese Christians, the novelist, Shusaku Endo, in his novel, 'silence' writes, "God was not silent, he suffered beside them". Even though the question of suffering is being reflected over the centuries, suffering continue remain a mystery. But in Christ suffering is transformed into love with ultimate resurrection and salvation. When we face sufferings, we can look at cross and attempt to see our lives through the eyes of Jesus. Our suffering does not go away but contemplating the sufferings of Jesus on the Cross helps us to look at our suffering with a new perspective. Our attitude to our life begins to change and that gives us the courage to carry cross to our Golgotha.

As we reflect on the passion of Christ this Palm Sunday, we are also challenged to examine our own lives in the light of some of the characters in the story like Peter who denied Jesus, Judas who betrayed Jesus, Pilate who acted against his conscience, Herod who ridiculed Jesus, and the leaders of the people who preserved their position by getting rid of Jesus and also women who anointed Jesus or the women near the cross sympathized and mourned for him. Are we people who sometimes resemble some of these characters? The challenge for us is to see ourselves as Jesus who humbly and obediently submitted himself to the will of his Father in heaven, preferring to die to oneself and willing to sacrifice for others.

As we journey through the Holy week, just as the centurion at the cross who declared, 'truly this man was God's Son', so too we are called to affirm our faith in him. We pray that we have the courage to carry our own crosses, that we may experience the presence of God even amid our suffering and fortify our faithful in the Lord. I wish you a very grace-filled HolyWeek.

An Introduction to the Holy Week

(compiled from www.catholicnewsagency.com)

Holy Week observances began in Jerusalem in the earliest days of the Church, when devout people traveled to Jerusalem at Passover to reenact the events of the week leading up to the Resurrection. The purpose of Holy Week is to reenact, relive, and participate in the passion of Jesus Christ. Holy Week is the same in the eastern and western Church, but because eastern Christians use the Julian Calendar to calculate Easter, the celebrations occur at different times.

Friday: Preparation Day, the Passover
The disciples arranged for the Passover meal, which took place after sundown on Thursday. We might call it Friday Eve, because by Jewish reckoning, the day begins with the previous sunset. That’s why we call 24 December “Christmas Eve.” Jesus and the disciples ate the Passover in the upper room. They ate it early, which was not uncommon. In that era, most Passover Seders did not include lamb, because most Jews lived too far away from the Temple to obtain a lamb that was kosher for Passover. Therefore the disciples, who were from Galilee, would have been accustomed to a Passover Seder without lamb. Judas left during the meal. Jesus and the remaining disciples adjourned to the Garden of Gethsemane, where Jesus prayed and the disciples kept falling asleep. Judas arrived to betray Jesus, who spent the rest of the night being tried by the Sanhedrin and by Pilate. The following morning, which was still the same day by Jewish reckoning, the Crucifixion significantly took place just as the Passover lambs were being slaughtered in the Temple. Matthew 27:62, Mark 15:42, Luke 23:55-56, and John 19:31 all inform us that this took place on Preparation Day, which is the Jewish name for Friday. Mark and John explain that the next day was the Sabbath. Later the disciples realized that in giving them the bread and pronouncing it His body, Jesus Himself had been the Passover lamb at the Last Supper. Thus Jesus, our Passover lamb, was sacrificed for our sins on Passover (1 Corinthians 5:7), and His blood protects us from the angel of death. Jesus died on the cross and was buried before sunset. So Friday was first day that Jesus lay in the tomb.

Saturday: the Jewish Sabbath
Jesus rested in the tomb on the Sabbath. According to Matthew 28:1, Mark 16:1-3, and Luke 23:56-24:3, the day before the Resurrection was a Sabbath. This is the second day that Jesus lay in the tomb.

Sunday: the first day of the week, the Festival of First Fruits

On the third day, Jesus rose from the grave. It was the first day of the week and the day after the Sabbath, according to Matthew 28:1, Mark 16:1-3, Luke 23:56-24:3. John 20:1 says the Resurrection took place on the first day of the week. He does not explicitly say that the previous day was the Sabbath, but there is no room in his narrative for any intervening days. The first day of the week is the Jewish name for Sunday. Sunday is also the eighth day after the creation in Genesis, so Paul describes Jesus’ Resurrection as the first fruits of the new creation in 1 Corinthians 15:20-23.
